Archdiocesan Strategic Planning Process Part Three

Monsignor McCormac

As the Archdiocese moves forward with the Fourth way, that is, with their unique approach to planning for the future, and recognizing that the approach is only now being formulated with the input of both priests and laity, there are certain key elements. The Archdiocese wants to avoid certain elements and they want to ensure certain elements, namely:

Avoid:

- Mass consolidation of parishes;
- Creating more “ecclesial deserts” especially in poor areas of the Archdiocese;
- Establishing permanent multi-parish pastoring situations;
- Poor stewardship of financial resources.

Ensure:

- A culture of missionary discipleship;
- A robust presence in each deanery, especially in current ecclesial deserts;
- Financial capital and human talent that will allow communities to thrive; involvement of Catholics currently in their 30s, 40s, and 50s;
- Care and honor of the priests’ vocation
- Support from the Archdiocese.

With regard to the term “ecclesial desert,” this is referring to areas of the Archdiocese where there is a lack of presence of the Catholic Church due to the closing of parishes over the years, especially in North Philadelphia, the City of Chester and other parts of the Archdiocese. With regard to the term “deanery,” this is referring to the 12 districts within the Archdiocese which have been designated by the Archdiocese for governance. There are twelve priests chosen by fellow priests to oversee their particular deanery on behalf of the Archbishop.

Regarding the Archdiocesan vision for the future and specifically their vision of Missionary Hubs, the purpose of the Missionary Hubs is to ensure through talent, resources, support, and accountability, there are communities that are intentionally turned to evangelization. The second purpose is ensure as other parishes change over time, there will be communities that are present and oriented to welcome individuals who might have to go somewhere they feel comfortable and welcomed because of the evangelization work that has happened over time. In time, the Archdiocese will be creating 50 Missionary Hubs, with 10 Hubs in each of the five counties in the Archdiocese.

In the fall, as more information becomes available, I will certainly be updating our Parish leadership, and also our parishioners. In the meantime, please remember our Archdiocesan leadership and our Parish leaders in your prayer as the Archdiocesan Strategic Planning Process continues.

Jesus gives us what we truly need. When a woman who had spent all her money on doctors to no avail and a father whose daughter grew worse by the day turn to Jesus for help, Jesus doesn't question why they did not come to him first. Rather, he encourages the faith that led them to him and gives them what they need. We, too, can have faith that will lead us to seek Jesus' help, for he is ready to encourage us as well, and to give us what we most need.

Wisdom 1:13-15; 2:23-24
2 Corinthians 8:7, 9, 13-15
Mark 5:21-43

The author of the Book of Wisdom explains that God formed man in his image to be imperishable, but through the work of the devil, death entered the world. Paul exhorts the Corinthians to be gracious and generous with their abundance, as Christ was to them. In the Gospel, Jesus heals a woman suffering from hemorrhages and raises a child from the dead.

New Director of Religious Education Jeanine Davis

We are pleased to welcome Jeanine Davis to our Parish Pastoral Team as Director of Religious Education. Jeanine, her husband, Patrick, and their adult sons, Jake and Luke, live in Fallsington and are members of Saint Frances Cabrini Parish. Mrs. Davis was a catechist in the Parish Religious Education Program for many years and Patrick often joined her to assist in various classroom activities. Jeanine proclaimed the Scriptures as a Lector, and she and her family presented the offertory gifts at our weekend Liturgies. Jeanine served as a facilitator, leading small group discussions during our Parish Adult Faith Formation Series.

Mrs. Davis has a Bachelor of Science in Business Marketing degree from West Chester University and worked in Marketing, Communications, and Sales for many years. She took a sabbatical from her parish involvement in order to pursue an advanced degree in theology and obtained a Master of Arts in Religious Education and Pastoral Studies from Cabrini University. Jeanine has successfully transitioned from her career in marketing and sales to a career in education, teaching at Pennsbury High School. When accepting the DRE position, Jeanine said, "I am thrilled and feel so blessed to be joining the team!"
